Panel discussion

Upgrade in progress: Innovation in domestic payment systems

Many domestic Payment Market Infrastructures (PMIs) are in the midst of a technology renewal, implementing new standards such as ISO 20022, going instant, building richer capabilities and more. As PMIs look beyond their traditional settlement activity and innovate for the future, this session focuses on evolution and innovation in RTGS & instant payments. What are the opportunities in building connections between PMIs, including linking domestic instant payment systems with gpi? And, how can PMIs overcome interoperability and security challenges to open up their structures to innovation from third parties?

Duration: 45 minutes

- Elena Whisler, Senior Vice President, Sales and Relationship Management, The Clearing House
- Stephen Everett, Managing Director, Lloyds Bank
- Dimitri Pattyn, Deputy Director General Market Infrastructure and Payments, ECB Europa

Spotlight

Signals, Risk and Paradox. In a world being driven to automation, how do we make better decisions and create better outcomes?

The risk frameworks we created in the late twentieth century and have been updating ever since were not built on platform thinking, big data, automation and digital eco-systems. The implication is that we may have a blindspot to certain new digital and data risks as the frameworks are limited. How do leadership teams and executives search for small signals which are hidden by urgency, scale and priorities to manage these new risks?

Duration: 30 minutes

- Tony Fish, Director and Digital NED, VOLT Bank

Make 2021 the year to improve your bank's diversity

Diversity, equity and inclusion are more topical than ever around the world. In this session, the authors of a recently published academic report on diversity in the financial industry, Kristina Kämpfer and Darek Wójcik, join gender scholar Siri Chilazi to explore the research and best practices on how financial firms can make meaningful progress on diversity in 2021. To add industry perspective, joining in this discussion is Kirsten Oppenlaender, Deutsche Bank and Chanel Bean, Bank of America. Don't miss learning how 2021 can be the year your bank's diversity improves

Duration: 60 minutes

- Kristina Kämpfer, DPhil (PhD) Candidate, University of Oxford
- Professor Dariusz Wójcik, Professor of Economic Geography, University of Oxford
- Chanel Bean, USD Clearing, Product Manager, Global Banking and Markets, Bank of America
- Kirsten Oppenländer, COO Central, International Private Bank, Deutsche Bank
- Siri Chilazi (M), Research Fellow, Harvard Kennedy School

SWIFT session

Our vision for data in securities: a consolidated view of holdings

Financial institutions use data for a plethora of different reasons, yet one thing is true across the industry- its use is critical. This panel will discuss how intense data innovations can have a positive impact on the capital markets industry, provided that the data behind them is of good quality, timely and comprehensive. What are the challenges and opportunities afforded by these innovations? Join this session to understand how the industry is managing securities data and how SWIFT can enable the community to leverage it, as part of its new securities platform.

Duration: 45 minutes

- Paud O'Keeffe, Head of Client Experience, BNP Paribas
- Bill Meenaghan, Executive Director – ITP Product Management, DTCC
- Simona Catanescu (M), Director of Capital Markets Strategy, SWIFT
